Best wishes and good health to the Editor of "Journal Rigeo"

With this letter, I send an article to be published in the journal "Journal Rigeo" in accordance with the Call Paper that I received last July, the submission of this article is a bit late due to my busy schedule as a lecturer during the Covid-19 pandemic, where I have to prepare On-line teaching assignments so the process of making this article takes quite a long time. I thank the Rigeo Journal Editor's attention to me who paid attention to writing articles to Rigeo's journal through the Call Paper Editor.

I hope to the Editor, that this article will be published in the Rigeo Journal, and of course I would like to thank you for the attention and correction of the article I submitted. Greetings from Indonesia, Azis Setyagama

Thank you for the information and I will immediately ask scopus.com

site offline

Azis Setyagama <setyagama.azis@gmail.com> Min, 6 Nov 22.12

why is the regional journal site always dead, even though this site is important to track a document published by a journal so that its existence is known, this regional journal has harmed the author of the article, it has been decided by scopus that the site is no longer active and the author has spent a lot of money. and please reactivate the site so that the author's article documents can be tracked.
Thank you Azis Setyagama

Greetings

With this letter, I repeat, please, my articles that have been published in regional journals with Volume 11 No.9 are included in the regional journal archives so that my document articles can be traced, because article documents without being able to be traced are considered no documents. Thank you

Azis Setyagama
