Greetings healthy and prosperous always for the Editor.

I thank you, Editor of the International Journal of Health Sciences, for publishing my article entitled: Government responsibility to the people of Indonesia in management of the COVID-19 pandemic, with the publication of Special Issue 4. I would like to ask the Editorial Team that I respect with the following questions:

1. Can the publication of my article be changed, which was previously published with a special issue, changed to a regular publication, because in Indonesia the special issue is not recognized and rejected in matters of applying for employment ranks in Indonesia and asking for journals that publish regularly.

2. Can my article be included in the author in the Scopus journal, I saw the International Journal of Health Science journal including the Scopus indexed journal, and the article document was automatically entered in the author on Scopus.com. I looked on Scopus.com about the Author Document, the article and my name is missing. And how do I get my document articles listed on

Author Scopus.com

Thank you for your answers and attention from the Editorial Team of the International Journal of Health Sciences to us, greetings and healthy always. Sender : Azis Setyagama
